2013 / 14

After the success of The Legacy Challenge within the Inspire+ schools, Public Health Lincolnshire awarded funding to Inspire+ to produce the Legacy Challenge as a countywide initiative. In celebration of this Baroness Sue Campbell was kind enough to launch the Legacy Challenge to the counties schools.

The funding that was secured enabled a greater collaboration of key partners within Lincolnshire to target their key local priorities through the Legacy Challenge initiative. Key partners included Public Health Lincolnshire, The Healthy Schools Team, The local County Sports Partnership and the School Games Organisers Network.

The Legacy Challenge successfully engaged over 28,000 pupils from 53% (147) of the counties primary schools. As part of the training for schools, over 500 Young Ambassadors were trained to champion The Legacy Challenge and promote healthy lifestyles within their school.

The Legacy Challenge was targeted as a whole school engagement initiative in which the challenges aim to increase physical activity and encourage healthy lifestyles.

2014 / 15

The 2014/15 Legacy Challenge was designed to have a Brazilian theme/look to link with the Fifa World Cup being held in 2014 and the build up to the 2016 Olympic and Paralympic Games in Rio de Janeiro.

Partners were consulted to influence the challenges more to collaboratively achieve localised strategies. This strengthened the links between key partners and was able to provide schools with more incentive to take part as it was able to provide even more evidence for their whole school development areas.

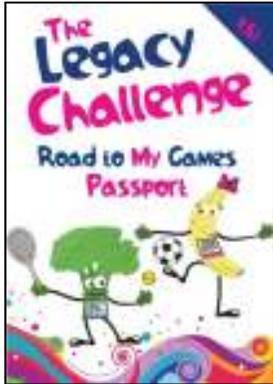

After the success of the 2013/14 Legacy Challenge there were some key developments, which included the introduction of individual key stage logbooks, the adoption of age appropriate evidencing and additional support for schools to embed the initiative.

Due to the success and developments of the Legacy Challenge interest from outside of Lincolnshire grew. This growth in interest can be accredited to the Legacy Challenges' proven record of providing a flexible and adaptable toolkit for areas to target key priorities.

This led to additional areas adopting the Legacy Challenge to meet their local partnership strategies.

- Actively engaged over 20,000 pupils.
- 37% (101) of Lincolnshire's primary schools engaged in the Legacy Challenge, with 25% being new schools.
- Over 350 new Young Ambassadors trained.
- Over 100 new teachers trained.

2015/16

This year's Legacy Challenge was designed to continue the Brazilian theme/look to build up to the 2016 Olympic and Paralympic Games in Rio de Janeiro.

Unlike the previous two years, the funding for the Legacy Challenge from Public Health Lincolnshire was retracted due to financial savings throughout the County Council. This was on no reflection of the Legacy Challenge programme and would have continued if it weren't for the severity of savings being made.

The logbooks have undergone another development which is focused massively on the Rio 2016 Olympic and Paralympic Games. The challenges (On Your Marks, Get Set and GO!) are designed for pupils to aim for their very own sporting games, 'My Games', this could be their school sports day, competing for their school or sports club or even one day competing for GB at the Olympic or Paralympic Games.

Through the challenges pupils will explore what it takes to be an athlete, put this into practice and then will compete like an athlete at their very own games.

- Actively engaged over 12,000 pupils.
- Over 350 new Young Ambassadors trained.
- Over 100 new teachers trained.

N.B Due to funding shortages, the support given in previous years was not viable. This has led to lower numbers.

2016/17

With the 'Childhood Obesity Strategy: A plan for Action' being published by the Department of Health in August 2016, this version of the Legacy Challenge was a step towards providing schools a flexible platform to meet the recommendations outlined.

As well as this, the introduction of the charities ambassadors was used to lead a challenge each to help promote the challenges and inspire even more children to complete the challenges.

The logbooks, like previous versions, aims to inspire more young people to become more physically active and to lead healthier lifestyles. The challenges incorporated this aim in various ways, although themed around the ambassadors.

With the ambassadors leading each challenge, they were moved away from sport to physical activity in an aim to appeal to a wider audience. Like previous versions, many of the challenges could be completed by families in a hope this would have a larger impact.

- Actively engaged over 10,000 pupils.
- 20% (55) of Lincolnshire's primary schools engaged in the Legacy Challenge, with 20% being new schools.
- Over 250 new Young Ambassadors trained.
